

STAR BEAUTY Easy 5-Minute Makeovers

Change your look in an instant! The pros reveal their best shortcuts to shapelier brows, chiseled cheekbones and super-radiant skin

1 PLUMP UP LIPS

Swap a matte lipstick for a light gloss. Dark, drying colors shrink lips. For a full mouth like Courteney Cox's, slick on an iridescent pink or nude gloss. "They reflect light to create the illusion of pucker lips," makeup artist Mally Roncal tells Us. (Roncal Knowles is a client).

Try a plumping gloss. These formulas boost lip size by stimulating blood flow and adding moisture. Use a brush to line just outside the mouth before filling in top and bottom lips.

VOLUMIZE HAIR

Boost roots. To take hair from flat to full, Jessica Alba's stylist, Robert Ramos, first applies a texturizing cream to damp hair before drying upside-down, massaging up the roots with his hands. Use a brush to smooth ends only, says Ramos.

Clip in temporary hair extensions. "They're great for instant fullness and length," says Ramos. Fasten three to four sections under the top layers of hair. Try Pin It on Pieces ($14, hairbywwe.com).

"I like to use a cream shadow to enhance her beautiful green eyes," says makeup artist Nick. (Biels of the Reckless star.)

3 MAKE EYES POP

Define top lash lines. Using a skinny black or brown pencil, deposit dots of color between the base of upper lashes; lightly smudge to blend. "It makes eyes look brighter and lashes fuller," says Roncal.

Lengthen lashes. Hold a mascara wand under the lash line and blink directly onto bristles. "This helps lift lashes and deposit more color on the tips for extra length," says makeup pro Robert Ramos.

4 GROOM BROWS

Define arches. "Polished brows make you look younger by lifting the entire face," says Bolanos, who groomed Sarah Michelle Gellar's brows. Pick a pencil one shade darker if you have light brows, one shade lighter for dark brows. Use short upward strokes from the inside corner to the arch; switch to downward strokes to lengthen the outside.

No time to tweeze? Keep brows in place with a brow gel. Try e.l.f. ($3, drugstores).

WHITEN TEETH

Change your lip gloss to brighten teeth. "Blue-based colors like mauve or a sheer plum can make teeth look whiter," Roncal tells Us. Lip hues to avoid? Orange-reds and corals. "The yellow tones in these shades can reflect onto your teeth."

Remove mild stains. "Chewing a piece of sugarless gum after a meal prevents stain-causing foods or liquids from adhering to tooth enamel," says NYC cosmetic dentist Debra Glassman.

5 BRIGHTEN SKIN

Keep coverage minimal. For flawless skin like Emmanuelle Chiquet's, don't waste time applying foundation all over—only cover flaws such as blemishes and redness. Use a stiff brush to apply concealer to the area, then dust on a translucent powder to set.

Perk up a dull complexion. Instead of using a powder and a blush, sweep a sheer shimmer bronzer across your entire face to both illuminate and even out skin tone.

6 CONTOUR CHEEKS

Slim a round or square face. For killer cheekbones like Rachel Bilson's, Roncal suggests sweeping a shimmery highlighting powder from cheeks to temples. Then, dust a light bronzer onto the hollows of cheeks, directly under the apples. "The light and dark shades add dimension," she says.

Widen a long face. Use a small blush brush to swirl a rosy pink hue just on the apples of cheeks.
